Negotiation for Change and Leadership
with a Neuroscience Edge – A New Beginning

Last 5 courses sold out

The two most talked about dynamics in the world of business are creating productive change and leading people easily and collaboratively through that change. The critical skills and success factors in change and leadership are constructive negotiations and considered conversations driven by new thought processes.

How skilfully we negotiate and create considered conversations is the number one success factor in the shifting from leadership to partnership

This new program allows you to change your mind, resulting in Change, Leadership, Negotiation and Conversation becoming one activity not four.

The program will:

- be a brand new approach for assessing, diagnosing and designing your new integrated approach to negotiating change and leadership.
- provide four completely distinctive approaches to you managing change and rethinking leadership as a collective endeavour.
- allow you to address the organisational, operational, renewal and relationship elements as never before.
- take change, leadership, conversation and negotiation from ME to WE, US, OUR
- stimulate your brain and the human thought processes, exploring and discovering how to think systemically and inclusively.
- provide a framework to move from remediation and tradition to co-creation and innovation.

The skills covered will be:

- stimulate and expand thinking.
- put discussion before decisions.
- excite the exploration of possibility, innovation and improvement, empowering en masse.
